Additional information

The enrolment charge from DofE is £21 for Bronze and Silver and £28 for Gold which covers the cost of the eDofE account for the participant and the record book. The remaining cost is used within the Directly Licenced Centre to fund the licence fee and administration costs. It also covers transportation including minibus charges, campsite fees, staff facilities, kit purchases for student hire and staff training to provide necessary qualifications for the Award to be able to run within the centre as a competitive rate.

All activities carried out for volunteering, skills and physical are not insured by Arthur Terry School and are undertaken at the participant's own risk. There is limited insurance for activities carried out provided by the Duke of Edinburgh Award charity.

There is very limited insurance provided by DofE for expeditions however Arthur Terry School provides public liability insurance for all educational visits including adventurous activities such as expeditions.

I do not give consent for photography and video footage to be used that includes my child for promotional purposes.
